

Sunvair Aerospace Group

Sunvair Aerospace Group, headquartered in Valencia, California, provides maintenance, repair and overhaul (“MRO”) services for commercial, regional, and military aircraft. Comprised of two specialized FAA repair stations in California and New York – the Company has earned a reputation for quality work, innovative repairs and rapid turnaround times.

The Company’s subsidiary in Valencia, CA (Sunvair, Inc.), founded in 1956, specializes in the overhaul of landing gear and related components. Its capabilities include a number of leading aircraft platforms, such as the Boeing 737, Lockheed C130, and Airbus A320. Sunvair offers its customers full service, in-house capabilities, including machining / grinding, non-destructive testing, hydraulic repair and testing, paint and inspection and has earned numerous customer accolades, including twice Boeing “Supplier of the Year,” and repeatedly a Boeing “Gold Supplier.”

Through the acquisition of AAIC in July 2015, Sunvair Aerospace Group expanded its capabilities in the repair and overhaul of accessories, including avionics, flight instruments, pressure sensing components and environmental controls systems. AAIC is known for its strong engineering and unique repairs that often extend component life and reduce costs for aircraft operators. Its capabilities include a number of leading aircraft platforms, such as the Boeing 737, Boeing 747, Airbus A320, and the full range of Embraer and Bombardier regional jets.

Sunvair Aerospace Group continues to actively seek opportunities to broaden its capabilities.
